

Egg & Dart

Introduction

The Egg and Dart neoclassical pattern is found in ancient Greco/Roman architecture. The egg represents life, and the dart death. This hardware series appeared around 1900 and was cast in solid brass. We collected antique pieces and remade the moulds. To maintain authenticity, casting is done one at a time and finishing is done by hand just as it was over a century ago. The back plate and 3" rosette sets are compatible with standard 2 1/8" pre-bored doors.
